

never intentionally misrepresented an opponent.

"Now, however," he said, amid cheers, "having done what I believe to be the honorable thing, I ask the paper to apply the same standard to the President that it applies to me. The President states that we had received $200,000, either from the committee of four years ago, or from some unknown source. I corrected the misstatement. Mr. Mack corrected it and later he brought it to the attention of the President, and yet the President has not yet admitted that he made a mistake.

"We received no money from the committee of four years ago, and we have given a statement of the money we have received since this campaign began.

The Parties and Trusts.

"I believe the editor of this paper does not deny that the president of the match trust did provide a Republican meeting. Mr. Roosevelt said that the law denying corporations had no reason to fear my election, and when I challenged him to give the name of one trust official in the United States who was supporting me he scanned the country and found none. He found a lawyer in St. Louis, who, in a case, was the personal attorney of a man that was the president of a subordinate branch of a trust, and within twenty-four hours he developed that the Republican national committee from the State of Missouri was the attorney for the trust, while the Democrat was the attorney for the president of the trust company. It developed that Mr. Taft himself had a few years ago recommended an attorney of the Standard Oil Company to be a United States judge, and to hold a life office in a territory where he might be expected to preside in cases where the Standard Oil Company was interested. Now here you have in this city the president of the match trust presiding at a Republican meeting. No president of a trust has presided so far at any meeting where I have spoken.

You Must Be Heard.

"It is said in criticism that I have not read Judge Taft's opinions in injunction cases. Well, my friends, I have two reasons for this, one is that I am a busy man and I cannot read as many decisions as Judge Taft has made in injunction cases, and another is that I do not need to read what he has said as judge when I have so much material that I have to read since I am a candidate. We ask for remedial legislation, and Judge Taft to-day opposes that legislation. We ask for the establishment of a department of labor with a cabinet officer, and Judge Taft is opposed to it. If he is in favor of a labor man in the Cabinet, why has not he said so in all of the speeches he has made. I believe that labor is entitled to a labor department, and I will have to read Judge Taft's opinions to make up my mind that there ought to be a department of labor and a secretary of labor. Our platform says that the antitrust law should be so amended as to exclude the labor organizations. I did not need to read Mr. Taft's opinion in order to decide whether we ought to amend the antitrust laws or not.

Taft and Labor.

"I did not have to read Mr. Taft's opinions on the labor question to know that you ought not to degrade a man with a heart and a brain and a soul by putting him under a law that is made to regulate the products of industry and the products of man. We believe that there ought to be a limitation upon the writ of injunction, so that it will not be issued in a labor dispute merely because there is a labor dispute. We believe that before an injunction shall be issued in a labor dispute there shall be a hearing, and we will justify the injunction if there were no labor dispute. I believe, too, that a man should be entitled to trial by jury in case of indirect contempt, and I do not have to read Mr. Taft's opinions to know what he thinks on this subject, for since he has been a candidate, he has not only declared himself against trial by jury in these cases of indirect contempt, but he has charged that in advocating trial by jury we are guilty of an insidious attack upon the judicial system of the country. Now I can make some charges, too, and I will make one on this subject.

"I charge Judge Taft with being unwilling to give a laboring man, never convicted of a crime, the protection of trial by jury that cannot, in our law, be taken from a convicted thief if he is ever charged again."

CHEERED BY LARGE CROWD AT MCKINLEY'S BIRTHPLACE.

NILES, O., October 21.—William J. Bryan was loudly cheered by a big crowd to-day in this, the birthplace of William McKinley, when he made a pleasing reference to the late President. "Your city is connected with the name of a man whom I learned to know quite well, not personally so well, as politically," he said. "I am glad to come to the home of William McKinley, and I have been rather proud of the fact that in the two campaigns in which I was a candidate against him, no personal unpleasantness entered into the campaign, that the campaigns were fought on issues and not upon criticism of the personal character of the candidate."

CROWD SO LARGE THAT SERIOUS ACCIDENT IS FEARED

STUBENVILLE, O., October 21.—A crowd of such proportions that caused grave alarm and one would be injured met William J. Bryan upon

"Benny for Clothes"

Your body is your sanctuary—honor and protect it.

You never have had such advantages in the buying of an overcoat as we offer you here now.

his arrival here to-night. Observing this, the Democratic candidate appealed to the people to stand still, but his appeal went unheard, for the surging mass struggled frantically to get nearer and nearer. Mr. Bryan had uttered but a few sentences on the publicity of campaign contributions when he was compelled to stop because of the crowd breaking out into cheers. "They are all Democrats, anyhow."

"They are all with you, Bill," were the shouts that caught the candidate's ears.

When order was restored, Mr. Bryan touched upon the election of senators by the people. Again he was interrupted by mighty shouts of "Three cheers for Bryan!" which were given with a will.

"I hope," said Mr. Bryan, "you will find out the polls on election day if you crowd about me to-night."

"Don't let them deceive you with their full dinner pail argument," Mr. Bryan continued, only to be again interrupted by cries of "No; no; no."

ROOSEVELT ON GOMPERS

In Letter to Senator Knox He Scores Labor Leader.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 21.—Campaign literature was enriched to-day by a letter from President Roosevelt addressed to United States Senator Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania, in which Mr. Roosevelt pays his respects to Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor, speaking at Philadelphia on Tuesday. Senator Knox took issue with Mr. Gompers on the question of the attitude of organized labor in the present campaign, and the President's letter of to-day is in support of Mr. Knox's views. Mr. Roosevelt says in part:

"Will Mr. Bryan definitely say, either in writing or in a public address, whether he believes with Mr. Gompers that the protection heretofore afforded by the courts of equity to the right to carry on a lawful business in a lawful way is despotic power, and that the judges who exercise that power are irresponsible despots?"

Does Mr. Bryan believe with Mr. Gompers that he and that part of the labor movement that agrees with him has the right, morally, and should be given the right legally, to paralyze or to destroy with impunity the business of an innocent third person, against whom he or they have no direct grievance, simply because this third person refuses to join with them aggressively in a labor controversy, with the real merits of which he may be utterly unacquainted, because he refuses to class as his enemy any and every other employer whom they point out as their enemy; because he refuses merely upon their peremptory order to excommunicate some other employer by causing all business relations with him? The blacklist and the secondary boycott are two of the most cruel forms of oppression ever devised by the wit of man for the infliction of suffering on his weaker fellows. No court could possibly exercise any more brutal, unfeeling or despotic power than Mr. Gompers claims for himself and his followers in this legislation, which would paralyze them without let or hindrance of any kind, to carry on every form and degree of the secondary boycott.

TAFT'S THROAT IMPROVES

Speechist Believes He Will Be Able to Fill His Dates.

CINCINNATI, O., October 21.—Aside from joining the Citizens' Taft Club of Cincinnati, to which he made a noon-day address, and reviewing the parade of delegates to the State Convention of Free and Accepted Masons, in session in this city, William H. Taft today spent a very quiet day. He arrived at 7 o'clock this morning, and will leave at the same hour tomorrow morning for three days of strenuous campaigning in Indiana. After that he will travel to New York for the last week of the campaign. Dr. J. J. Richardson, of Washington, a throat specialist, who is traveling with Mr. Taft, to-night said that his patient exhibited wonderful powers of recuperation. He believes that the condition will be able to make many speeches which the national committee has set for him between now and the end of the campaign. The day's rest has had a wonderful effect on Mr. Taft's condition, according to the doctor.

Hitchcock Is Confident.

NEW YORK, October 21.—On the eve of his last campaign visit to Chicago, where he will remain until Monday, Senator Frank H. Hitchcock, of the Republican National Committee, expressed himself more confidently than he has at any time since he assumed the management of the Republican campaign. He declared to-day that New York was absolutely safe for the Republican ticket, and added that he was confident that California, Oregon, and Washington would give large Republican pluralities. He was satisfied also, he said, with conditions in Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas, and he thought Montana was safely Republican, though he did not look for any overwhelming pluralities in that State. As to Mississippi, Kentucky and Maryland, he regarded the last and sure States as Republican, and as to the other two, he thought there was a fighting chance.

Depew to Speak.

NORFOLK, VA., October 21.—Republican National Committee Chairman Martin J. Depew, of New York, is expected to-day to arrive in Norfolk, where he will speak at the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce, on October 23rd, and at the Norfolk Club, on October 24th.

Schooner From Norfolk Loses Load.

NEW YORK, October 21.—The schooner Mary, from Norfolk, laden with lumber, was towed in here to-day from sea by the tugboat Coney. The schooner lost her deckload and two of her crew were injured.

Stover from two deputies and lynched him. Stover was charged with having attempted to criminally assault Miss White, the daughter of a prominent farmer. Miss White could give no description of the negro, but Stover was arrested on suspicion. When the officers arrived in town with their prisoner a mob took the negro from them and riddled his body with bullets. There was considerable excitement in Hartsville, and trouble with the negroes is feared, as the people were already aroused over the serious shooting of Policeman Brown by an unknown negro last night.

WILL SETTLE THE TROUBLE

Negotiations Between Turkey and Bulgaria Promise Success.

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 21.—The negotiations between the Bulgarian envoys and the government continue, and promise satisfactory results. Kiamil Pasha, the grand vizier, in an interview to-day, expressed doubt as to whether there will be a conference of the powers, because both Austria-Hungary and Germany declined to participate in the question of the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina was to be discussed.

Negotiations Reported Broken Off.

PARIS, October 21.—A special dispatch from Constantinople says that negotiations between Austria-Hungary and Turkey have been definitely broken off, the Porte refusing to accept the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina as an accomplished fact.

Not Export War Material.

VIENNA, October 21.—The government will publish an order to-morrow prohibiting the export of guns, ammunition, horses or any war material to Serbia.

Write in Thaw Case.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., October 21.—A writ of error was granted Harry K. Thaw to-day by the United States Court of Appeals, on an appeal from the decision of Judge Young, at Pittsburgh, yesterday, in which the court dismissed the writ of habeas corpus to bring Thaw to Pittsburgh to testify in his manly case here against Dr. George H. Tamm, of the Hotel Ghetto. Argument will be heard in December.

JURY NOT AGREED CASE

Are Said to Be About Evenly and Hopelessly Divided—Locke Up for the Night.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., October 21.—Unable to agree on a verdict to-night, the jury in the Gilbert murder trial was ordered locked up for the night by Judge Hancock of the Corporation Court. They will again consider the case to-morrow. It is said that the jury is evenly and hopelessly divided. The defense scored its strongest point at the morning session, when Dr. I. I. Foster, expert on insanity and nervous diseases, was called to the stand, and testified that Benjamin Gilbert is insane, that he is a morose, generate, and would never recover from that condition. He said that he had made this statement after studying the condition of the young man, as he was confined in jail for the past month or more.

The witness was carried through a grueling cross-examination, Commonwealth's Attorney Tilton entering into the technique of mental diseases at length, and finally securing the admission that he had been hired by the defense to examine the prisoner and testify in his defense of insanity. He declared, however, that a professional fee would not lead him to even exaggerate the mental condition of the patient—that he was stating his opinion in an unconscious manner at the time of his repeated examinations. Scores of other witnesses were examined, all testifying that Gilbert was a strange boy, that he was considered "right-minded," and a number giving the opinion that he was either weak-minded or crazy.

In rebuttal the State introduced Dr. Berkley, who testified that he attended the prisoner when he had taken leave with suicidal intent, but did not see any signs of insanity. He said he saw the prisoner repeatedly thereafter, and that he had seen nothing in the prisoner to excite his suspicions. He would not consider the young man insane.

One witness testified for several years, declaring that he had never taken him for an insane person, although he considered him a morose and suspicious boy. It was brought out by witnesses during the trial that Gilbert claimed that the dead man oyster to eat, telling him that there after she could do anything she wished with him.

The prosecution attempted to show that Gilbert could write, but failed, their witness saying the young man could neither read nor write.

CAST ADRIFF IN STORM

Crews of Two Barges Rescued After Perilous Experience.

DETROIT, MICH., October 21.—A special from Houghton, Mich., says: "Fifteen men and one woman, comprising the crews of the barges Selvia Marvin and Lizzie A. Law, were rescued to-day after a thrilling and perilous experience on Lake Superior. Cast adrift Monday night in a heavy storm, the two barges, which were connected with the steamer Edward L. Hines, parted, the two barges, with their helpless people, drifted all Monday night at the mercy of the waves, and early yesterday were swept on the rocks on the east shore of Keeweenaw peninsula, ten miles from the portage route. Unable, owing to the dense forest fires smoke, to determine where they were, the castaways remained at the scene of the wreck until they were discovered to-day and taken aboard the steamer Hines.

The Marvin, and the steam fairly well, and found a snug place in the rocks when she drifted ashore. When located late to-day she was scuttled to prevent her pounding on the rocks and being broken to pieces. The Lizzie A. Law reported a total wreck, and her crew had a terrifying experience as they drifted, tossing and rolling in the mountainous seas, with the night made blacker by the thick forest fire smoke, and unable to tell what moment they would be dashed to destruction. All Monday night the waves washed high over the barges, and as soon as the large street the rocks she began to break to pieces. One of the sailors then volunteered to carry a line ashore in a small boat. His little craft was swamped in the water, but the sailor managed to cling to the line and swim with it through the surf to the land. The people on board the Law, including one woman, were then brought safely to shore on the life line, and remained, watching the destruction of their vessel until the Hines found them to-day and brought them to Houghton.

THREE HUNDRED DEAD

Belated Reports Give This as Victim

MANILA, October 22.—Belated reports indicate that the storm of October 12th in the Cagayan Valley was the worst and most destructive within the memory of living inhabitants of the valley. It seems certain that the number of dead will reach 300. There was a heavy typhoon and torrential rain throughout the valley and in the mountains. The rivers were flooded, and in many places rose to a height of thirty feet, sweeping everything before them in their path to the sea. Hundreds of animals and houses were swept away by the waters.

At Aparri, which was almost all under water, the American residents, headed by Lieutenant Treadway and Clark, Postmaster Foss and Engineer Clark, formed a brigade which rescued scores of natives.

The government has dispatched a coast guard cutter to investigate conditions and organize relief. It is reported that cholera has broken out among the refugees.
